STILL MORE VICTIMS.

Thirteen Names Added to the Drowned Sailors.

STEAMER WERKKEN WRECKED.

The Founders in Ten Fathoms of Water on the Northern Coast of Lake Erie Carrying Down With Her All but Three of Her Crew—Latest Reports of the Other Disasters.

BUFFALO, Oct. 17.—Thirteen more victims have been added to the already long list of fatalities resulting from the terrific northwest gale that swept the great lakes Saturday and Sunday last. It is now definitely known that the steamer Wercken of Cleveland foundered in 10 fathoms of water, just above Longpoint on the northern coast of Lake Erie in the recent storm, carrying down with her all but three of her crew.

The list of those drowned is as follows:

Albert Meswald, captain, Marine City.

Miss Sarah Meswald, his sister.

Captain John Mitchell, Cleveland.

Captain David Jones, first mate, Cleveland.

Matthew Hasler, second engineer, Marine City.

Michael Hinkleman, chief engineer, Cleveland.

Charles Minard, steward, Marine City.

Henry Branch, warehouse man, Marine City.

John Hinkelman, fireman, Marine City.

George Smith, fireman, Marine City.

Edmund Eldridge, watchman, Marine City.

Mike Kenney, deckhand, Marine City.

William Eachl, fireman, Marine City.

Those saved are:

J. P. Saph, second mate.

Robert Crowding, deckhand.

J. H. Rice, wheelman, Cleveland.

The last few weeks of the navigation season of 1893 will live long in the memory of lake mariners, for no such awful list of fatalities has been known in shipping circles for a decade as the one to which additions are being made daily, as reports come in giving details of the terrific gale that swept the inland seas steadily for more than 48 hours at the close of last week.

The story of the fate of the Dean Richmond in Lake Erie and the Minnehaha in Lake Michigan is supplemented by the news of the loss of one or two lives from a number of vessels composing the lake fleet, and now comes the loss of the Wercken with its cargo of human souls.

It is too early to attempt any estimate of the money loss by the sinking of small craft at various points in the chain of great lakes from Duluth to the mouth of the St. Lawrence river. All incoming vessels are minus part of their rigging, are badly stove in or otherwise show marks of their terrible experience with the wind and heavy seas.

The Wercken was bound from Ash-tabula to Duluth with a cargo of coal. She sailed on Friday, on the eve of the great storm, from near the starting point of the ill-fated Dean Richmond, and must have encountered the storm in its worst form, as was the case with the Richmond. Longpoint, on the north shore of Lake Erie was the haven sought by both vessels, but both became prey to the dangerous coast along that part of the Canadian border. The Wercken made her way to Erie with safety. There she picked up her consort, the Joe Paige, and proceeded up the lake.

The vessel had proceeded well out in the lake before she was struck by the storm. She faced the gale and prepared for the battle for life. After she had been swept fore and aft by the tremendous seas and had been almost dismantled, Captain Meswald saw that further efforts to combat the storm were useless. His boat was being rapidly torn to pieces and the only hope was to seek the protection of Longpoint. The sea was too much for her and it was soon found necessary to drop the Paige.

The vessels had clung together in the hope that if either must succumb the other might prove the means of saving the lives of both crews. It was only as a last resort that the hawners were cut and each set out with grave misgivings to make the fight itself. The Paige had thus far weathered the gale much better than the steamer and having the advantage of position, rode westward before the storm and found safety behind Longpoint with all canvas gone.

The Wercken was not so fortunate. Her fight had been made, and although she righted for a time after the consort had been cut loose her rigging was gone and her hull had been badly sprung as she buffeted the heavy seas. The hatches were the next to go, and as she rapidly filled the last hope of the despairing crew vanished. Each made preparations to save himself single handed if possible. Life preservers and portions of the ship's furniture were called into use and every provision was made after the fate of the vessel became certain to enable the human beings that were to be cast adrift to remain on the surface of the water.

As the boat became waterlogged, and it became evident that it was a question of battle of a few minutes, the strong men began to jump overboard with the faint hope of being cast ashore without being beaten to death on the rocks that abound in that locality. The women and the less skillful swimmers were easy prey to the furious waves, and were hurled out of sight of one another by the tremendous waves that lashed the sinking hull. They went down in quick succession.

Three only of the 16 souls that were aboard the Wercken escaped. These, J. P. Saph, the second mate; Wheelman, J. H. Rice and Robert Croling, all hardy and experienced seamen and skillful swimmers, succeeded in keeping themselves well out from the dangerous coasts until the storm abated and they were able to make a landing.

The Wercken was owned by John Mitchell of Cleveland, and was valued at $50,000, insured with Smith, Davis & Co. of Buffalo, David Vance, Oil Cake, and C. D. McDonald of Chicago. Her cargo of 1,800 tons of coal, consigned to W. L. Scott & Co., was valued at $10,000; insured.

LOSS OF THE RICHMOND.

One Survivor to Tell the Tale of the Disaster.

DUNKIRK, N. Y., Oct. 17.—Only one man escaped from the lost steamer Dean Richmond, and he was found on the beach, nearly dead, yesterday. His sunken eyes told a story of terrible suffering. He was aimlessly wandering up and down the beach and when spoken to burst into tears and said he was looking for his dog.

He was questioned and said he had been washed off the Richmond and was unquestionably the only man saved from the vessel. After he had been cared for and given stimulants he recovered sufficiently to tell the story of the awful last hours of the steamer. He said his name was C. L. Clarke, and he shipped in Toledo just before the Richmond sailed.

"There was nine of us," he said, besides Captain Stoddard, his wife and three children. We left Toledo at 6 o'clock Friday night and sailed along all night until we got into the gale on Saturday. It struck us hard from the very start, but if we had had good luck we would have weathered the storm and been safe in port in Buffalo at this minute.

"We tried to get into Erie harbor, but could not on account of the choppy sea, and Captain Stoddard decided to make the run to Buffalo if he could. We were not in very bad shape then, although we were badly wrecked by the heavy seas which struck us, it seemed, from every side.

"About 2 p. m., after matters had grown worse right along, we sighted a couple of steamers. They were quite a distance away, but we signaled them for assistance. They either did not see us or could not get to us, for they went right along, fighting their way into the storm, headed toward Buffalo.

"The waves ran over our decks and everything which was movable was swept overboard. The captain's wife and children were locked up for safety's sake, and the crew working for their lives on deck. An hour later we lost our stoker. Then we continued to drift along at the mercy of the wind and waves. About 7 o'clock in the evening the wheelhouse was washed away. The rudder and wheel were broken and we were badly crippled. We were then about 15 miles from shore and after considerable work managed to set the rudders so we could make for the shore.

The captain had made up his mind to run for the shore and beach his vessel. He made fair headway with a hard fight, and I began to get things ready to get out in the yawlboat with the captain's wife and children. I went back to the captain, and just before I reached him a big wave struck us and I was carried overboard.

"This must have been about 11 o'clock. I gave myself up for lost when I found myself in the water. I kept sight of the Richmond's lights for some time and saw her drifting down the lake turning and twisting in every direction. Then I lost consciousness and did not know anything until I found myself lying on the beach near a town which I found out was Silver Creek. When I came to myself I went into the town. I had some money and got something to eat, found out where I was and then came here to learn what had become of the steamer.

"I heard this morning that she had gone down and then I came over here and tried to find the boat and my dog."

Clarke insisted on continuing his search for his pet and a mile or two up the shore an overturned yawl from the Richmond was found. Clarke saw it, jumped forward and threw it over. Inside tied to the seat was the dead body of the dog.

Among the bodies found are those of Captain Stoddard and Mate Boylessen. The captain's watch stopped at 12:20 o'clock, showing that to have been about the time the steamer went down. In the mate's pockets were found all his papers, which indicated that he knew there was no hope of saving the steamer and had prepared to leave her.

A lighter and piledriver are ashore between here and Battery point and it is supposed that the crew were drowned. Nothing has been heard of them so far.

One More Vessel Ashore.

ESCANABA, Mich., Oct. 17.—The steamer City of Cleveland, with the Quay in tow, was driven on the north end of the beach Saturday night. The wrecker Monarch, with lighters and two steam pumps and about 50 men, left here yesterday. The steamer is in bad shape and is leaking badly.

No report can be had as to the position of the Quay, but it is thought that she cleared the islands. The steamer and consort left here Friday night with iron ore for Lake Erie. The wind is blowing hard from the southwest and the steamer may become a total loss.

Fears For Another Steamer.

CHICAGO, Oct. 17.—The fears for the safety of the steamer H. J. Johnson, which had the lost schooner Minnehaha in tow on Lake Michigan last Friday, have been growing in marine circles. Not a word can be obtained as to the present whereabouts of the steamer, although there has been ample time for her to have turned about and passed the straits of Mackinac. The missing boat carried a crew of 16 men, and was commanded by Captain Thomas L. Beniteau of Cleveland.

Three More Drowned.

DUNKIRK, N. Y., Oct. 17.—While searching for bodies from the wrecked propeller Dean Richmond yesterday afternoon, their boat capsized and George I. Thurber, Frank Cahoon and George Mann were drowned. The bodies have not been recovered.

A HUNDRED DROWNED.

China's Sorrow Again Does Fearful Execution.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 17.—The steamer City of New York arrived from Hong Kong via Yokohama and brings advices of a terrible accident at Lungkuan ford on Yellow river in the province of Shensi. Three ferryboats were swept away by a flood and 100 passengers drowned.

Japan papers report the loss on Sept. 8 of the British bark Florence Treat, en route from Singapore to Shanghai. She was caught in a typhoon and driven on the rocks. Captain Foulson, his wife and four children and 14 Chinese and Malay sailors perished. The captain's son, Daniel, one Chinese and one Malay escaped.

Barely Escaped Asphyxiation.

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 17.—A leak in the natural gas pipes supplying a building where a milliner's straw bleaching works are located on North Third street came near costing several lives yesterday morning. The odorless gas filled the room, and about 15 persons were overcome by its fumes. Fortunately their condition was quickly discovered, the gas shut off, windows opened and the victims rescued just in time to save them from death.

Real Smallpox.

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 17.—A dispatch from Marion announced that a suspicious case of varioloid had developed there. Later in the day Secretary Metcalfe of the state board of health, received word stating that it was a genuine case of smallpox and that several more cases are expected shortly. The secretary left at once for the infected town in order to establish quarantine regulations.

Milliners Assign.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 17.—Del Noble and Joseph C. Noble, individually, and trading as Del & Joseph Noble & Company, dealers in wholesale millinery goods, assigned to Jacob DeTurk. Inability to make collections and failure to realize upon merchandise was the cause of the embarrassment. The assets nominally exceed the liabilities.

CONDENSED NEWS.

Short Items From Various Parts of the Country.

A reconciliation is said to be about to take place between Mr. and Mrs. Edward Deacon.

John B. Jeffrey, formerly a well-known theatrical printer, has been indicted for perjury at Chicago.

A section of land a quarter of a mile in diameter has sunk and formed a lake near Reelfoot Lake, Tenn.

Two tramps were killed and three trainmen injured in a wreck on the Rock Island road near Paxico, Kan.

Vincent Tyler, a worthless fellow, shot and killed his wife and then committed suicide at Minneapolis, Minn.

Comptroller Eckels has appointed J. G. Hubbell of Lexington, Ky., national bank examiner for the state of Kentucky.

Judge Martin of New York has sentenced Emma Goldman, the anarchist, to one year's imprisonment in the penitentiary.

In the international chess tournament at Brooklyn, Lasker and Lee are a tie for first place, each having won 11 and lost no games.

Comptroller Eckels has appointed Daniel W. Krieger of North Manchester receiver of the First National bank of North Manchester, Ind.

It is believed that the awful wreck on the Michigan Central road at Jackson, Mich., Friday, was caused by a tramp tampering with the airbrake.

The English papers comment very fairly on the Vigilant's victory over the Valkyrie. While taking some comfort from the closeness of the last race, they admit that the American is slightly, at least, the better boat.

The Norwegian bark Martin Luther from Sidney, for St. John's with ballast, is ashore off Wash Mills near Northern Head harbor. Two of her crew were drowned. The ship will prove a total wreck. The remaining 12 men had narrow escapes.

ON TRIAL FOR HIS LIFE.

Henry Starr, One of the Most Notorious Robbers in the West.

FORT SMITH, Ark., Oct. 17.—Henry Starr, one of the most notorious bank and train robbers in the west, is on trial here for his life. The specific charge is the killing of United States Marshal Floyd Wilson in the Indian Territory on Dec. 11 last.

Starr is a half-blood Cherokee and 23 years old. His first crime was the robbery of the express office at Nowata, I. T.; for this crime Marshal Wilson and Deputy Dickey pursued Starr to his cabin on California creek. After waiting two days and nights in hiding, Starr was seen to leave his cabin. Wilson pursued him on horse back, while Dickey, who was unmounted, went to a ranch for a horse and followed Wilson. The chase was kept up for several miles when Starr and Wilson both dismounted. The marshal fired a shot and then his Winchester clogged with a shell and he was powerless. Before Dickey could get in range, being armed with a shotgun, Starr fired five shots into Wilson's body. Starr caught Wilson's horse and escaped. Dickey returned to Coffeyville, Kan., with his dead comrade's body.

Subsequently to the killing of Wilson, Starr and a Delaware Indian named Ed Newcomb held up the Caney Valley bank at Caneyville, Kan., on March 27 last, and secured $2,500. This was followed by a series of bank and train robberies, all charged to Starr and his band. Starr and his wife, with Starr's most desperate confederate, Kid Wilson, were captured at Colorado Springs, Colo., on July 2 last. On them was found $11,400 in greenbacks and $500 in gold.

Henry Starr won his wife in a romantic fashion. At the time of the Pryor creek train robbery in August of last year Starr remained on the platform of the first coach while his confederates went through the train. A young girl, wild with terror, jumped from the car and fled in the darkness. When their work was done Starr and his men mounted and rode rapidly away. Only a short distance from the railway they encountered the girl, who seemed crazed with fear. Starr took her on his horse to the outlaw camp, and she became attached to him. She gave her name as Mary Smith of Joplin, Mo. Pursuit getting warm Starr sent the girl home, promising to go to Joplin and marry her. A few weeks later the outlaw appeared at Joplin and, after gaining consent of the girl's parents, married her under the name of Frank Jackson. He took her to Colorado and their arrest followed as stated.

AFTER MANY YEARS.

A Missing Columbus Man Is Found in Indiana.

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 17.—Over 20 years ago J. Harvey Coulter, then 14, son of Dr. J. H. Coulter, a wealthy resident, now deceased, left home one night and was as completely swallowed up as if the earth had yawned and taken him in. At the time his disappearance attracted almost as much attention as did Charley Ross', and the father spent a fortune in trying to locate Harvey.

The parent died without even getting a trace of the missing one. The young man had been at supper, and, getting up from his chair, walked into the yard and was gone. The boy was advertised for, and years later a sharper from Springfield came to Columbus, and tried, by representing himself to be the missing boy, to get hold of some property left by the doctor. The Springfield man was sent to the penitentiary.

A few days ago a sister of Harvey's received a letter from him dated at Elwood, Ind. The brother is married and has a family. He will now come into possession of a goodly inheritance left in care of a trustee at his father's death. The old man would never believe that Harvey was dead, and left the property so that if he were found the son could get it.

The family here is very reticent about the affair, and, unless it was from the fact that his father had married a second time, no reason is known why Harvey should have left home.

White Cappers Sentenced.

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 17.—The celebrated White Cap trial at Salem closed yesterday. Judge Voyles gave Elijah Dalton, who stood by to see his wife whipped and is believed to have paid for it, five years in the prison south. His brother, James Dalton, who held Mrs. Dalton, and Holsapple, who whipped her, each got five years. Boling, who was present but did not interfere, got three years, and Barnett, who was present but was too drunk to help, got two years. Peyton, for turning state's evidence, escaped. The public approves the sentences.

Will Not Go to the Fair.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—The president has written a letter to President Higginbotham of the world's Columbian exposition expressing his regrets that he and Mrs. Cleveland are unable to accept the invitation recently tendered them to attend the world's fair before it is permanently closed. Mr. Cleveland some time ago informed Mr. Higginbotham that he was almost certain that the press of public business would prevent him from going to Chicago.

Killed By a Boy.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Oct. 17.—News was received here of the murder of H. P. Patrick, formerly from Greeley, Col., one of the most prominent miners of Topolobampo, co-operative in the state of Mexico. He was killed by an 18-year-old boy for the purpose of robbery. The youth confessed his crime, was tried, convicted and shot. Patrick leaves a wife and child, who were visiting the world's fair at the time of the killing.

THE RAILS SPREAD.

Passenger Train Hurled Over an Embankment.

SOME THIRTY PEOPLE INJURED.

Four Hundred and Fifty Passengers on Board and Fortunately Not One Was Killed—The Wrecked Cars Set on Fire and Two of them Consumed—Names of Those Most Seriously Injured.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 17.—The westbound Chicago limited train on the Wabash road left the track one mile south of Nameeki last night resulting in the injury of some 30 people. The wreck is regarded in some respects without a parallel, in that no one was killed out of the 450 passengers.

The train was in charge of Conductor Woods and was making up thirty minutes lost time. After Nameeki had been passed there was a clear stretch of 12 miles of straight level road to East St. Louis. The engineer put on all force and the train was going 40 miles an hour, when there was a sudden jar, followed by the slewing of the train. The rails had spread behind the locomotive and the cars following went over a six-foot embankment. The buffet car, behind the baggage car, swung across the track and the gas tank exploded, setting fire to the first chair car and the buffet car, which was consumed.

The uninjured immediately set to work to rescue their less fortunate companions. Two physicians on the train did noble service.

While the excitement was at its highest pitch a train on the Big Four, only 40 yards away, came by at express speed and refused to stop in answer to a signal. Aid had been sent for to St. Louis, but did not appear till 8 o'clock. At that hour a special from St. Louis with physicians and nurses arrived and brought the injured to this city.

Among the injured were the following:

C. C. Palmer, San Antonio, Tex.; arm bruised and thigh broken.

A. S. Stager, St. Louis; right arm broken.

Mrs. Hannah C. Roberts, St. Louis; badly injured in breast.

Mrs. Beard, Mississippi; seriously injured in head.

J. B. Hunter, Nevada City, Cal.; serious internal injuries.

J. T. Thomas, Mobile, slightly.

Mrs. W. Frame, St. Louis; skull fractured.

P. D. Mink, Wabash conductor, scalp wound.

Mrs. Kate Beckie, St. Louis; bruised.

Mrs. Mary Dunn, Missouri; rib broken.

Miss Lon Dunn, dangerously wounded.

Miss Ida Maurer, New York; badly bruised.

Mrs. Mary Moore, St. Louis; thigh broken.

Mrs. Lottie V. Henry, Coffeyville, Kan.; shoulder dislocated.

Mrs. M. Davis, Louisville; back sprained.

Mrs. W. M. Smith, Round Rock; cut and arm broken.

Robert H. Jenkins, Chicago; hand mashed.

James Gordon, Ruddle, Kan., scalp wound.

W. G. Englehard, Toledo; slightly.

In addition to these there were a number of returning world's fair visitors from St. Louis injured, who were conveyed to their homes by friends before their names could be learned.

None of the main crew can give any theory concerning the cause of the disaster. The generally accepted opinion is that the weight of the locomotive caused the rails to spread at a weak spot.

A dreadful loss of life was only prevented by the gradual slowing of the train.

The wounded were cared for by the Wabash officials, the most severely injured being taken to St. Mary's hospital and the others to hotels.

"FAREWELL, LIBERTY."

Old Man Mason Arrives at the Ohio Penitentiary.

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 17.—"Goodby, fair world, farewell, sweet liberty," cried Christopher A. Mason, alias William Hudson, aged 70 years, as he tottered through the gloomy guardroom of the state prison yesterday, in charge of the sheriff of Fulton county, to begin his sentence of five years for horse stealing. "We will never meet again."

On the way down the old man told the sheriff that he was innocent of the crime, but the circumstances seemed to be against him, and on the advice of his lawyer he pleaded guilty to get the court's clemency, but failed. He is the oldest man ever received at the prison, and will probably soon die.

Pine Forest In Flames.

HOUSTON, Oct. 17.—Reports from east Texas say that 50 miles of pine timber, reaching from Montgomery county toward the Sabine river, is a seething mass of flames. The whole country is dry, and unless rain falls it is feared the loss to the yellow pine section of Texas will run into millions. Several fine milling plants and towns are in the path of the fire, and grave fears are entertained.

Woman Frightfully Burned.

CHICAGO, Oct. 17.—Mrs. Martha Knudson attempted to start a fire in the stove with benzene when an explosion occurred, the burning fluid being thrown on her face and clothing, burning her frightfully. Her son John rushed to her assistance and finally extinguished the flames, but not before his mother was probably fatally burned. John Knudson's face and hands were badly burned.

WEATHER FORECAST.

Fair and warmer weather.

Tornado policies—W. R. Warder, agt.

The Record-Homestead Publishing Company, of Lancaster, made an assignment last Friday.

About one hundred people left here last evening on the C. and O.'s excursion to the big Chicago show.

Rev. T. W. Watts was granted license yesterday by the County Court to solemnize the rites of matrimony.

It is said the Republicans of this district will hold a convention Friday to nominate a candidate for State Senator.

Don't put off until the next Centennial, but go to the World's Fair Thursday, October 19th. Round trip $7. Good on all C. and O. trains.

Mr. A. P. Gooding, Jr., a son of Hon. A. P. Gooding, was unanimously nominated for Representative by Harrison County Democrats last Saturday.

BYRON WILLIAMS will deliver his popular lecture "Our New Navy" at court house October 27th, under the auspices and for the benefit of the Y. M. C. A. The lecture will be illustrated by stereoscopic views, and will prove interesting and instructive.

Tickets for "Single Life" will be found on sale at Chenoweth & Co.'s, J. C. Pecor's, J. J. Wood's, George T. Wood's, Power & Reynolds', Simon Nelson's, Frank Owens Hardware Co.'s, Robinson & Co.'s and Mitchell & O'Hare, Hardware Co.'s. Price 50 cents. No extra charge for reserved seats.

The various brotherhoods of railroad men connected with the C. and O. met at Huntington and organized a federation. A special from Huntington says: "There has been recent rumor of a reduction of wages on the C. and O. system, and this move on the part of the brotherhoods may be for the purpose of making a stronger fight against it."

The many friends of Mrs. Dr. Guthrie, of Aberdeen, will regret to learn she is suffering from nervous prostration, brought on by the long and anxious watch in the sick room of her husband and father and by the business cares following their death. Her condition last evening was rather serious, but she was resting better this morning.

On August 19th Robert Eddy and Miss Olive Cox, of Danville, were secretly married at the residence of J. H. Ludwick, a brother-in-law of the young lady, in Louisville, Rev. J. N. Lyle being the officiating clergyman, but their friends and relatives at Danville knew nothing of it until last Saturday. The groom is a son of Rev. Dr. L. Eddy, who was Stated Clerk of the Synod of Kentucky in session here last week.

OUR NEXT SENATOR.

The Democrats of Mason and Lewis Nominate Hon. A. P. Gooding by Acclamation.

At the recent primary Hon. A. P. Gooding was declared the choice of the Democrats of this county for State Senator. Yesterday he was nominated for the position by the Democrats of the district by acclamation.

The convention was held at Vanceburg and was called to order at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. A. D. Neal, of Vanceburg, was chosen Chairman, and J. N. Kehoe, Secretary.

W. D. Frey, of Lewis, placed Mr. Gooding in nomination, and was seconded by Judge Wall and R. D. Wilson. His nomination was made by acclamation.

A party of twelve or fifteen from this county attended the convention.

HELP THE SOUTHERN SUFFERERS.

A Benefit Entertainment to be Given Next Friday Night at the Opera House.

Maysville theatre-goers will remember with pleasure Buckstone's charming little comedy of "Single Life," as presented by some of our young people last spring, and will hail the opportunity of seeing it once more. Those who were unable to be present on that occasion should not fail to see it next Friday evening. Apart from the mirth in which it abounds, it is a faithful mirror of the costumes and manners of the first half of the century, recalling pleasantly the good old days.

The revival of this play is for a praiseworthy object. Buy a ticket for the sake of the sufferers in the far South and you will find that you have in purchasing a charming evening's entertainment contributed to a worthy cause.

Tickets on sale at Nelson's. Admission 50 cents. No extra charge for reserved seats.

Excellent Minstrel Company.

One of the very best minstrel entertainments given in Maysville this season was that given last night by Hi. Henry and his company of artists. An average crowd was in attendance, but the company deserved a packed house. The end men kept the crowd laughing as long as they talked. The musical part of the programme, both vocal and instrumental, has seldom, if ever, been excelled by any minstrel company in this city, while the dancing was excellent.

That Joyful Feeling

With the exhilarating sense of renewed health and strength and internal cleanliness, which follows the use of Syrup of Figs, is unknown to the few who have not progressed beyond the old time medicines and the cheap substitutes sometimes offered but never accepted by the well informed.

Grand Auction Sale.

Remember there is going to be fifty head of well-bred Colorado horses sold at public auction on Saturday, October 21, 1893. These horses will be sold regardless of prices. No postponement, rain or shine. JUSTICE & PETERSON.

The River.

The marks show a stage of seventeen feet here and still rising.

The St. Lawrence resumed her daily trips in the Maysville trade this morning. She will arrive here at 2 p. m. and return this evening.

Blacksmith Coal.

William Wormald has received a supply of good smithing coal. Call at elevators on Limestone street.

The Original Wedding Cake.

Our wedding cake is the remains of a custom whereby a Roman bride held in her left hand three wheat ears, and many centuries later an English bride wore on her head a chaplet of wheat. The attendant girls threw corn, either in grains or in small bits of biscuit or cake, upon the heads of the newly married couple, and the guests picked up the pieces and ate them. Such was the beginning of the wedding cake, which did not come into general use until the eighteenth century and was then composed of solid blocks, laid together and iced all over with sugar, so that when the outer crust was broken over the bride's head the cakes inside fell on the floor, and they were then distributed among the company.—New York Sun.

The Bull Was Scared.

An amusing incident is said to have occurred recently when one of the Armour's, the great beef and pork packers of Chicago, was traveling in Spain. He was taken by a grandee of Madrid to see the national sport. When the bull came in, he sank on his knees and refused to move. Then the director called the treader and inquired the cause of the trouble, to which the treader replied, "Ah! senor, ze bull 'ave seen ze great Armour of Chicago sitting with your excellency, and zere is no fight left in him."—London Tit-Bits.

A masterpiece in mechanical construction has been built in Glasgow, a vertical and horizontal planing machine, for the use of marine engineers and others when ordinary planing machines are insufficient.

Physician Murdered.

WACO, Tex., Oct. 17.—Dr. J. M. Pratt, one of the best known and most highly respected physicians of Hill county, was shot and killed yesterday by W. C. Harris, a constable, a few miles north of the city. The cause of the shooting is not known. Harris surrendered to the county officers, but refused to make any statement other than that he acted in self-defense.

School Building Damaged by Fire. WILMINGTON, O., Oct. 17.—The Wilmington high school building caught fire yesterday morning and was discovered about the time the scholars were assembling for school. A defective flue is supposed to be the occasion of the fire. The fire department soon got the fire under control. The damage to the building by water will be considerable.

Mr. J. D. Dye, one of Maysville's enterprising business men, member of the firm of Peed & Dye, is a candidate for Councilman in the First ward.

HON. GEORGE T. HALBERT was nominated for re-election to the Legislature yesterday by the Democrats of Lewis County. He had no opposition.

Candidates for subordinate positions before the next Legislature are bobbing up here and there. Messrs. Green R. Kellar and James E. Stone, the popular and efficient Clerks of the last session will, it is said, be re-elected without opposition.

PERSONAL.

Mrs. Thomas M. Russell is at Bloomington, Ill., visiting her brother.

Captain John T. Martin and wife returned last night from Lexington.

THE SALARY QUESTION.

The City Council Continues the Matter Till November—Dance Tails—Stock Law.

The salary question was not settled by the City Council last evening.

An adjourned meeting was held for the purpose of deciding what salary the various municipal officials to be elected in November shall receive during their term of office, but the Committee on Laws and Ordinances to whom the matter had been referred asked that the question be postponed until the regular meeting in November.

Mr. Blatterman, Chairman of the committee, stated there was some doubt whether one person could hold the offices of Treasurer and Collector under the new order of things, and the committee wished to get some legal advice on the point. It was thought best to postpone the matter, and a motion to that effect prevailed.

Mr. Hicks stated that complaint had been made about some of the public dances given lately, especially in the Sixth ward. He thought there ought to be some ordinance regulating such entertainments, and the matter was referred to the Committee on Laws with instructions to report an ordinance covering the case.

The Committee on Laws reported an ordinance ordering a special election to be held in the Sixth ward at the regular November election, to decide whether stock shall be permitted to run at large in said ward after January 1, 1894. The rules were suspended and the ordinance was adopted.

City Clerk O'Hare called attention to the fact that some of the polling places fixed by the City Council for the approaching election were not the same as those fixed by the County Judge. He was directed to post and publish notice as required by law making the necessary changes. The city election will be held at the places fixed by the County Judge. Council then adjourned.

EXPLOSION IN A WELL

Business Portion of a Town
Badly Wrecked.

FIVE MEN INSTANTLY KILLED

Five More Seriously Injured, Two of Whom Can Not Live—The Victims of the Disaster Were Well Diggers, and Dynamite Was Used and a Premature Explosion Followed.

EMINGTON, Ill., Oct. 17.—The entire business portion of Emington was wrecked by a premature explosion of dynamite at 11 o'clock yesterday. Five people were killed and five more seriously injured, two of whom can not live.

The killed are:
James Cornwell, single man, in the employ of Eyer Brothers.
Chris Eyer of the firm of Eyer Brothers, professional well diggers of Dwight, Ill.; leaves wife and child.
Fred Eyer, Olney; cousin of Eyer Brothers.

—Eyer, Olney; also a cousin.
S. E. Fowler, Emington; leave wife and two children; was a spectator.

The injured are:
John Brown, single, Emington; can not live.

John Kennedy, Emington.
Chris Sherer, single, Olney.
James Wyllie, Emington.

William F. Wyllie, Emington.

Others received bruises by the awful shock but these are the only ones seriously injured.

The two Wyllies were digging a well, and to further their work they filled a gaspipe two feet long and one quarter inch in diameter with dynamite, and were tapping it when it exploded, throwing the men and landing them over 50 feet away.

The Eyers and Cornwell were mangled in such a manner that identification was impossible. Hats, shoes and pieces of clothing were scattered all around the streets in that vicinity.

Every window light in town was shattered by the shock and stores and residences near the scene were considerably injured.

Among the heaviest losers are Herb & Son, general store; O. Lewis, general store; C. Drew, meat market; U. Shelly, grocery store; Dr. Hamilton's office building and residence; Conroy Sisters, millinery; John Johnson's residence and the Emington hotel.

The town was soon filled with curious people attracted by the shock which was felt a distance of five miles. The dead were taken into Neuhoof Brothers undertaking establishment, where an inquest was held.

SENATE AND HOUSE.

A Little Activity Shown in Both Branches of Congress.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—The proceedings of the senate were interesting. They opened with action on the house joint resolutions fixing the qualifications to vote and hold office in the Cherokee outlet, Oklahoma Territory, at the first municipal elections. The resolution was passed after an attempt by the Populist senator from Kansas (Mr. Pfeiffer) to engraft woman suffrage upon it. The attempt was sustained by only nine senators.

The Union Pacific receivership led to the introduction of a bill by Mr. Morgan (Dem., Ala.) to provide for the control of the Union and Central Pacific railroads until their debts to the government are fully paid up or secured.

Most of the two hours assigned by the rules to morning business was taken up in a debate on resolutions to amend the rules heretofore offered by Mr. Lodge (Rep., Mass.). They propose to prohibit the reading of prepared speeches; require the counting of senators whom are present and refuse to vote for the purpose of making a quorum, and propose an arrangement similar to that now existing in the house under which (through a report from the committee on rules) debate may be stopped and a vote taken.

Mr. Lodge, spoke of the senate presenting a travesty of helplessness; and said that it should either frankly abandon the whole thing or else go to work and amend the rules, so as to give power to the majority.

Mr. Vest, in opposition to the amendments said that the effective and patriotic use of the rights of the minority in defeating the force bill a few years ago was worth an acre of argument. When senators, he said, came to the conclusion that there could be no unconditional repeal of the Sherman law, a compromise bill could be passed which would be just to all sections and classes.

To a question by Mr. Hill (Dem., N. Y.) why the pending bill could not be passed, Mr. Vest replied that if the New York senator, after what he had witnessed during the last two months, could not answer the question satisfactory to him, it would be arrogant vanity for him (Mr. Vest) to try to do so.

Mr. Aldrich (Rep., R. I.) also took part in the discussion, and he and Mr. Hill were eventually emphatic as to the power of the majority to pass the repeal bill even under existing laws.

The lodge resolutions went over, and the repeal bill was taken up at 1 p. m. Mr. Jones (Rep., Nev.) occupied three hours; but not finishing his speech, and Mr. Pfeiffer (Pop., Kan.) going on with the speech which he began last Friday.

In the House.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—The bill extending for six months the time within which Chinese may be allowed to register under the opinions of the Geary law was passed in the house with little or no opposition. This was due to some extent to the fact that the amendment defining Chinese merchants was agreed to almost unanimously. There was no attempt made to procure the yeas and nays, and the opponents of the measure allowed it to go through by default. The final vote stood 178 to 1.

The Cox bill for the better control of national banks was then taken up, and after remarks by Mr. Cox, pro, and Mr. Cannon, con, the house without disposing of the measure, at 5 o'clock, adjourned.

Weathered a Hurricane.

KINGSTON, Jamaica, Oct. 17.—The steamer Morris has reached here in a badly damaged condition. She ran into a hurricane and had very bad weather until late. During the storm the vessel labored heavily and made bad weather of it.

Prominent Citizen Shot.

MEMPHIS, Oct. 17.—Dr. W. B. Shumaker, a prominent citizen of Ackerman, Miss., was shot five times and instantly killed by W. H. Heflin, against whom he had preferred charges of keeping a "blind tiger." Heflin escaped.

Reception to Lord Dunraven.

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—The New York yacht will give an informal reception to the Earl of Dunraven at the clubhouse on Madison avenue, on Tuesday evening, Oct. 17, from 10 to 12.

KNOWLEDGE

Brings comfort and improvement and tends to personal enjoyment when rightly used. The many, who live better than others and enjoy life more, with less expenditure, by more promptly adapting the world's best products to the needs of physical being, will attest the value to health of the pure liquid laxative principles embraced in the remedy, Syrup of Figs.

Its excellence is due to its presenting in the form most acceptable and pleasant to the taste, the refreshing and truly beneficial properties of a perfect laxative; effectually cleansing the system, dispelling colds, headaches and fevers and permanently curing constipation. It has given satisfaction to millions and met with the approval of the medical profession, because it acts on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels without weakening them and it is perfectly free from every objectionable substance.

Syrup of Figs is for sale by all druggists in 50c and $1 bottles, but it is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, whose name is printed on every package, also the name, Syrup of Figs, and being well informed, you will not accept any substitute if offered.
